President's Team Proves to Good

An interesting contest, in the bridge club, was held this week, when the president, E. Cummins, and the Vice-pres., G. Depue chose sides, the losing side to provide supper. Mr. Cummins' team consisting of E. Clever, M. F. Hamilton, J. Ashmore, L. Fisher, P. Patterson, Frenchy and Farries and Mr. Depue's team C. Luchia, J. Kulpas, A. Jopling, F. Watts, J. D. Swanson and J. McIntyre. The president's won and the team for was composed of J. Funge. Immediately the losing side challenged, the reward to be an oyster feed at the expense of the losers. Again the president won and he and his team feel that although their opponents were good sports, they have had enough.

Jack Takes No Chances

At a recent meeting of the bridge club a vote was taken to select players to oppose Vulcan. Women selected were Clever, Kukous, Patterson, Watt, D. Ashmore, A. W. Jopling and Luchia. A game a week is to be played for two months and the winners will then meet the winners of the Barons and Canamay clubs which are playing in the same manner.

An unique feature of the above meeting was the fact that there were fourteen members present and J. Kukus received fourteen votes. We would suggest that the Hon. R. H. Bennett get in touch with Jack and find out how this is done.

CLAYTON-REID

Aldrie United church was the scene of a wedding service on Saturday night at 8 o'clock, when Margaret Law, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Reid, and Mr. Edward Lorain Clayton, eldest son of Mrs. Lorain Clayton and late Mr. E. J. Clayton, who is united in marriage to the Rev. J. V. Howey.

The bride party entered the church to the strains of the "Wedding March" and the bride, played by Mrs. Inez Clayton, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of old gold crepe with a metallic collar, with hat and other accessories to match. She carried an arm bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Mr. Frank Reid, brother of the bride, was groomsman. The usher was John Fletcher and Mrs. S. S. Morris.

During the signing of the register, Mr. J. V. Howey sang the solo "All For You." She was accompanied by Mr. K. C. Neale.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast and reception were held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Reid.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton will reside on a farm northeast of Aldrie.—Calgary Herald.

Track Meet

A few days before the Christmas holidays, a meeting of the students of the Champion Consolidated School was held in the Assembly Hall to receive the ribbons and cups won in the Track Meet. The ribbon and cup awards were made by Mr. R. I. Baker and Mr. R. D. Farries. The winners of the individual cups were May Fisher, Dick Latif and Jimmy Anderson. Two of the cups were donated by the Women's Institute and the third by Messrs. F. Sison and C. Luchia. Mrs. M. G. Clever gave a very fitting speech on behalf of the Women's Institute who so graciously have promised to give two individual cups to the Field Meet annually.

The large cup was won by Miss Martin's room. This is the third time that this cup has been in the High School.

Although the competition in the track meet was keen, boys succeeded in breaking only three records. The girls did better by breaking seven records and equaling eight. The following is a list of records broken in 1934:

Canada In 1935

Now that the world is well launched into the new year, and we are becoming accustomed to writing 1935 instead of 1934, the question should become more and more insistant, rather than less so, as to what we propose as individuals and as citizens of Canada to make of this new year. A new hopefulness seems to prevail and a greater degree of confidence is in evidence than this year is to provide opportunities which were lacking in 1934. It remains for the individual to grasp those opportunities and bend them to his will.

The depression has been teaching many important lessons. It has been a hard taskmaster, and the lessons taught through bitter experiences have been well placed on ones, needed to the point of the very bones. Those who have been tested, though forced circumstances, by thousands of people have been compelled to turn to their local community for assistance, with resources thus taxed to the limit, local communities have had to turn to their Provincial Governments for aid. Provinces, in turn, have had to rely upon the Federal authority with its greater resources.

School districts and rural municipalities have found they could save themselves and their tax payers by turning to the Provincial Government for assistance. Provinces are realising that Federal policies have a more direct bearing on Provincial policies. Provincial finances, and Provincial ability to function and carry on was appreciated in the past; the Dominion Government has learned, as all national governments have learned, that with all its power it, too, is handicapped, and its ability to act as it truly believed to be in the national interests, nullified by the policies and acts of other nations.

The depression has enforced the lesson that, while the world of nations may not be a political unit, they are an economic unit and that one of the best ways to protect isolated from others; rather, statesmen, financiers and business men realising that complete independence of nations in finance, trade and many social policies must be subordinated in a larger acceptance of the interdependence of all.

Internationalism in its true and proper conception must replace the all too long accepted idea of nationalism, and the old conception of "my country first, last and always" regardless of all else. Internationalism is of yesterday. As an writer of the day, super-nationalism is of tomorrow," and he patiently says and asks "What does it stand at the intersection of the two ways—which will she take?" It is for the individual Canadian to decide.

Unlike Great Britain, Canada has not possessed a large and broad vision, political and otherwise, for the welfare of the world, as far as our remoteness and distance, nor past from the centre of world affairs, by our close proximity to the United States where extreme nationalism and isolationist policies have always prevailed. But Canada's vision and responsibilities were broadened by the war. Becoming a large world trader, Canadians have learned and learned rapidly. This Dominion has been one of the strongest supporters of the League of Nations, and all that the League stands for in international co-operation and the promotion of peace and international goodwill.

There can be no turning back for Canada—we must play our part in the world arena. Only so can this Dominion further develop and prosper, politically, financially, no matter how it may be expressed, means a reversal to a colonial status, a return to the days of the United States of the twentieth century. Even in the United States there is a tremendous stronger sentiment in favor of acceptance of the larger international viewpoint and in support of U.S. co-operation with other nations. And no other nation than Canada can do more to advance and strengthen that sentiment. It is the duty of every Canadian to do it and it is one of the greatest services Canadians can now render to the world.

And in the sphere of our domestic Canadian affairs, it should be the aim of our people to bring about a closer union, a better understanding, and greater co-operation among the Provinces. There is need for amendment in the institutions of the Dominion, and the Provinces which with courage, vision and a sense of fair play, aim at long-term authority, and provide ways and means of mutually advancing co-operation. The foundations of our Canadian confederation are good and sound, but the framework erected thereon can and ought to be improved and made more adaptable to present day needs and requirements.

It is submitted that it should be the patriotic task of the Canadian people to achieve marked progress in these directions before "finis" is written to the year 1935.

Russian Grain Growers Who Fulfilled
Plan Receive Reward

Grain growers, practically all European and Asian countries have been granted permission to sell grain, flour and bread on the open market as a reward for their fulfillment of the grain collection plan. The plan, estimated to be the collective farms and individual farmers as well, and was granted by the central committee of the Communist party and the council of people's commissars.

Montreal Woman SWEARS TO TRUTH

In poor health since he was eleven years old, Mrs. Florence Williamson of 7420 Bloorfield Ave., Montreal, tells a story of her life which is as remarkable and at last became completely free from constipation. To prove even the most skeptical, she consented to tell all of her experience under oath before the coroner. I was two years old, I was ill with constipation. I never felt good until I started taking it, and now I can truly say that I gave me work, and I have been constipated and strongly urge anyone who has the same trouble to had to try fruit-a-tive."

Scientists Believe World Will Play
Out In Time

There are always those who appear worried about the end of the world. These are easily satisfied that it is coming, and to be sure that it is coming, Professor Millikan holds that in the universe the process of creation runs paralleled with the process of decay and death, a theory which brings small comfort to those who are worried about the end of the world. The balance of power is not by any means on the side of creation; in fact, it is all the other way. For the professor, who believes more than any other about cosmic spaces, has discovered the presence of some wicked blue rays that are capable of laying down a barrage of ultimate destruction if the day she unwrapped it on that eventful morning, 63 long years ago, is believed the dole is the oldest in Canada.

"Mother, is it true that an apple a day keeps the doctor away?" "Yes, Jimmie. Why?" "Cause if I eat it, I kept about the house this morning—but I'm afraid I'll have to come to town."

"Mother, I am the only one that can eat an apple a day. I never feel good until I started taking it, and now I can truly say that I gave me work, and I have been constipated and strongly urge anyone who has the same trouble to had to try fruit-a-tive."

Increase in Industry

Germany Makes Fast Progress And Sets Up New

Industry in a number of countries during 1934 was reported by the economic section of the League of Nations.

Growth in which particular progress was recorded were Canada, Germany, Italy, Norway, Sweden and Poland.

Decreases were recorded in the United States, France and the Netherlands.

In many other countries the important increase reported at the beginning of 1934 was interrupted after June and July when definite drops were recorded.

Industrial activity in October, 1934, marked an increase of 20 per cent. in Germany, 19 per cent. in Sweden, 15 per cent. in Italy, 9 per cent. in Canada, 8 per cent. and in the United States, 5 per cent. in the Netherlands and 15 per cent. in France.

Miss "Anxious" writes as follows: "I work in an office and am very dissatisfied with my work, although I am well paid. I am not able to have anything to do and the salary that goes with it. I would much prefer to have a job where I would have done so if illness had not prevented me from following it up. I am worried about my problem, which is worrying me terribly."

"I am terribly fond of two men, and I am not able to choose between them. Should I marry the one who will have a long struggle to make his success come (I am not able to help him) or the one who can make up my mind that I love him enough to marry him. Or should I marry the man who is 15 years of age and I am but 27. This man is wealthy and can give me security. He is refined and has travelled all over the world. Because of this I feel unassured and a wonderful pain. Now, Mr. Hibbert, I shall consider this matter again and again, and I hope this matter, as I simply cannot decide myself."

In considering this problem, mere consideration of handwriting is not enough. As far as character is concerned, there are two men, between these two men. They are both straightforward and reliable. One, Mr. Hibbert, and one who is unassuming and a wonderful pain. Now, Mr. Hibbert, I shall consider this matter again and again, and I hope this matter, as I simply cannot decide myself."

One, Mr. Hibbert, and one who is unassuming and a wonderful pain. Now, Mr. Hibbert, I shall consider this matter again and again, and I hope this matter, as I simply cannot decide myself."

So it is necessary to use psychology. Here we have a girl who is no longer in the flapper stage, and who is now a woman. She is not unassuming, and a wonderful pain. Now, Mr. Hibbert, I shall consider this matter again and again, and I hope this matter, as I simply cannot decide myself."

It is not only this. She herself has a desire to have a man who is in the same line of work as she is, and she is also quite interested in the study of fine arts, and was quite popular by illness.

Her interest is thus in medicine and in art, and this is a strong point in her favor.

Against all this—and you will notice that I am not making any impression that she is very fond of them both, at its face value—there is a strong desire to have a man who is more sympathetic, more sympathetic, and more understanding than young people are striving hard to make progress.
